It might take you longer than one lesson: Write a diary entry from the viewpoint of an astronaut living on the International Space Station. Create your own Mars rover using recycled material (e.g. cardboard boxes) Paint your own Solar System. Make your own mnemonic to help you memorise the order of the planets.	Plan and carry out an investigation into how craters are made on the moon. Create a rap or poem about your favourite planet. Create your own planet. Make a fact file to describe conditions on that planet. Go outside at night and draw a map of the stars and planets you can see. What do astronauts eat? Create your own menu which could be sent to space (remember they freeze dry their food)
